INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITY: International Aboriginal Youth Internship Program 2011-2012

The Canadian Urban Institute (CUI) is currently accepting applications for the 2011-2012 International Aboriginal Youth Internship (IAYI) Program. The program is funded by the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA). CUI's

IAYI is designed to provide young Aboriginal women and men with skills-building experience in an international context that will enhance their understanding of international development issues, and enable them to make career choices and gain longer-term employment in the field of their interest. CUI is accepting applications for the following 6 positions:

- Community Development Intern - Ethiopia (2 positions)
- Communication and Outreach Intern - Jamaica
- Marketing and Organizational Development Intern - Jamaica
- Environment and Sustainability Intern - Philippines
- Sustainable Tourism Development Intern - Philippines

In order to be eligible for an internship, candidates must:

- Hold a secondary school diploma or general equivalency diploma (GED). Youth currently enrolled in a college or CÉGEP program are eligible for an internship as long as they will not graduate before the completion of their internship. Youth currently enrolled in university studies and in possession of a university degree or a college diploma are not eligible.
- Be between the ages of 18 and 35 at the time you sign the contract with CUI
- Be a Canadian or permanent resident of Canada
- Be of Aboriginal affiliation and willing to sign a CIDA self-declaration form.

For further information on the internship, visit www.canurb.org.

To apply, submit cover letter and resume to jobs@canurb.org. Deadline for applications is November 30, 2011. However, selection of interns may take place early based on applications received. Candidates are therefore encouraged to apply early.

Specific questions may be addressed to Andrea Fresolone at afresolone@canurb.org.
